Australia's SuperNanny requesting your feedback please

Have you heard about the Super-Nanny?

I am currently on a crusade to promote the concept that it is possible to become a Super-Parent! Please take a look at the information I have provided below regarding same and let me know of anyone I can contact or possibly any associations/centres etc that you know would be interested in running the workshop.

Thank You!
Jan

Busy Super-Parents Need Qualified Advice!!!

Dr Janet Hall is Australia's qualified answer to the Super-Nanny..

What are parents to do with inappropriate behaviour without making the child feel 'labeled' as naughty, insecure, helpless and unaccepted?

Dr Jan says: "Parenting does not come with a hand book and whilst information can be useful, it's important to access non-sensationalist, credible information where possible. We would never let a plumber give us a heart operation so why would we allow, and rely on, any non-qualified people to give us advice on the single most important role of our lives? – Parenthood!"

Parents Rely on Dr Janet Hall:

- Qualifications
- Credibility
- Experience
- Recognised Authority
